Four well-bunched hits in the eighth inning of yesterday's game tells the tale of how Richmond dropped one to the Trunkers by 4 to 1. Up to that season Salve had the visitors guessing all the time, with the exception of four scattered singles in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth. It was chiefly a pitchers' battle. Salve striking out eleven batters and allowing but four bases on balls, while Loos, for Portsmouth, fanned but three men and gave the same number of passes.

The locals found little trouble in hitting Loos, getting in all eight hits, one of which was a two-bagger by Shaffer. Heffron returned to life by getting two singles, and Kirkpatrick and O'Neil duplicated the trick. The Colts have three errors chalked up against them, one being partly responsible for a tally in the eighth. It was a rather tame affair, and a hard game to lose, despite the fact that the Colts were both outbatted and outfielded.

The only feature to the contest, if it can be termed that, was that for the first time in any of the league games here, a man has been put out of the game for abusive language to the umpire. Martin was termed guilty of this misdemeanor. In the sixth, after Kirkpatrick had singled, the young third-baseman stole second, and though he did not make it with any room to spare, Umpire Stanton was fair in calling him off. Martin had heaved to head him off, and upon hearing the decision against him started in to tell Andy a few startling facts regarding that worthy's parentage, which remarks were the cause of Martin's walk benchward.

The Way It Happened.

For three innings neither side managed to count. In the fourth, however, Heffron opened for Richmond by drawing a pass. Wallace singled him to the second base, being called out at first on a close decision. Kirk and O'Neil each followed this up with neat singles, and "Home-run Heffron" galloped home with Richmond's first and only tally. Portsmouth tied up the game in the seventh on a base on balls, an error, a sacrifice and a fielder's choice, and in the next came back strong, untying it and sewing it up for the personal use of Manager Moss in boosting his percentage. Hits by Moss, Loos, Cassidy and Reville were the factors in driving across the winning runs. Again in the eighth the winners drove another nail in the lid by a pass, a hit and a choice, which scored the last run of the game. The score:

ROANOKE LOSES TO LYNCHBURG

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

ROANOKE, VA., May 3.—Roanoke showed a decided reversal of form, and were whipped in a one-sided game by 7 to 2. Smith, for Roanoke, was hit freely, and the locals put up a poor exhibition on the field. Stewart had Clark's men at his mercy, and did not allow a hit until the sixth inning. The field was wet, and made the playing very slow. Lynchburg hit well, while Roanoke failed to connect when hits meant runs. The score:

ATHLETES AWAIT STARTER'S PISTOL

Everything Is in Readiness for Big Track Meet This Afternoon.

THE RIVALRY IS INTENSE

Local High and Preparatory Institutions Will Do Best to Carry Off Banner.

Everything is in readiness for the big outdoor field and track meet which will be held at the State Fair Grounds this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Despite the rain which fell last night, the track should be in fine condition if the sun comes out for a few hours to-day, and with the straightaway in the 100, 220, and but a slight turn in the 440, some fast time should result.

Virginia's strongest came in last night, and a huskier bunch of athletes would be hard to find. The men all look in the pink of condition, and the manager and Captain Randolph state that they are ready to carry off their share of the prizes which are offered. Virginia Polytechnic got in last night, and they, too, are ready for the crack of the starter's pistol to set them off from the mark. This morning the remainder of the representatives from the different colleges will get in, and after a rest in the morning will go out to the fair grounds to uphold the honors of their respective Alma Mater on the athletic field.

Besides the regular card of events, several relays which should be provocative of keen competition, have been featured. High School and McGuire's will meet in a half mile relay, and midday teams from several preparatory institutions in the city will be pitted against each other in a 440-yard relay. These midday relays have but recently jumped into favor, and are always a source of much real racing to the competitors and amusement and interest to the spectators.

Another relay which promises to be hotly contested is a three-cornered affair between William and Mary, Hampden-Sidney and Virginia Polytechnic Institute, for a distance of one mile. Richmond College and other local athletes spent yesterday in resting up for the events this afternoon, and if hard work counts for aught, the Richmond representatives should take their share of the events. Rivalry among the city high and preparatory schools for the championship banner, which will be presented to the team of this class scoring the greatest number of points, by The Times-Dispatch, has increased to a great extent, and a special effort will be made by all these institutions to carry off the honor and the trophy, a picture of which will appear in The Times-Dispatch of Monday.

The management again wishes to emphasize the fact that the games will begin promptly at 3 o'clock, and that the broad and Twenty-fifth Street cars will run all the way through to the grounds, starting at 2 o'clock.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

BLACKSBURG, VA., May 3.—Virginia Polytechnic Institute defeated Washington and Lee here this afternoon by 5 to 3, giving them two out of three games played with the Lexington team this season. ## AMERICANS TAKE ELIMINATION RACE

Illinois Boat Wins Trial for Renowned Battenburg Cup Against Foreigners.

NORFOLK, VA., May 3.—The English tars repeated their victories of yesterday over the American, German, Austrian and Argentine crews in to-day's races in Hampton Roads. The event of the day was the elimination trial between American ships' crews for the defense of the Battenburg cup against the British cruiser Argyle's crew to-morrow. There were fifteen entries, and the Illinois won, with the Indiana second and the Maine third. Racing cutters were used, and the three-mile course was covered by the winner in twenty-five minutes and thirty-five seconds.

In the first race the Good Hope crews finished second and third, while her consort, the Hampshire, sent a boat into second place. This race was a combination sailing and pulling affair over a six-mile course, and the best time was 2:33 and 13 seconds. The Rhode Island boat was fourth.

In the ten-mile sailing race between service cutters the Austrian cruiser Sankt George had the winning boat, but the Good Hope was a close second, while the Ohio was ten minutes behind her. Time of winner, 2:41 and 3 seconds.

The third race was the same distance, over the regular Jamestown Exposition course, but sailing launches were used. Here the Americans redeemed themselves. The Virginia and Louisiana tied for first place, and the Connecticut finished second. The others were distanced. Time, 2:27 and 38 seconds.
